United States Attorney Deborah R. Gilg announced that Mack L. Nash, 25, of Omaha, Nebraska., was sentenced on April 26, 2011, to 36 months in prison by Chief United States District Judge Joseph F. Bataillon, for possessing a firearm following a 2004 felony conviction for being an Accessory to a Felony, in violation of federal law. In addition to his prison term, Nash will serve three years of supervised release following his release from prison.

Nash was arrested around 2:53 am on January 12, 2010, after Omaha Police responded to a call from a female who said there was a man with a gun in her home in the 5500 block of South 30th Street. Once on scene, officers saw Nash walking eastbound from the backdoor of the apartment of the female caller. When ordered to stop, he paused about 20 yards from the back door. As officers approached, he again began to walk east. He stopped and was taken into custody after walking another 50 yards. Officers found a .45 caliber pistol in the snow exactly where Nash had paused.
